FRIDAY, MAY 18 – MAY MADNESS AT THE ZOO GETS CRAZY

May 18 is week #4 of the season and we haven't much to show for it, do we? We've tried to run the Intimidator 100 twice and are sure hoping the 3rd time results in a checkered flag. Also on tap before the regular program for the night gets started is the Late Model Sportsman's make-up feature from opening night. THEN it's on to Stock Five night with all 5 classes racing. This means double duty for the Outlaw Super Late Models and the Late Model Sportsman. If car counts remain high, we'll toss in a Last Chance Race or two and a B Feature for the Zoo Stocks. Don't forget, this is the last night grandstand tickets from the season opener may be presented for a $3 discount off the regularly priced adult ticket ($12). Tickets for youth 6-12 are $5 and kids under 5 are always free. Let's go racing!!

- Outlaw Super Late Models run the remaining 78 laps of the GT Products Intimidator 100

MAY 11 RECAP

We're thinking May Madness is more like getting flat out mad in May!

So with the rain messing up Fast Fridays we thought we'd include a few random photos:

Clockwise from left (next page): That can't be Skeeter chasing a push truck—can it?; Jerry Jansen (Sportsman) is ready for some racing in the #99; Kalamazoo Speedway fans are the BEST around; Grant Lofquist (Zoo Stocks) is all set to qualify; Nick Failing waits for the Zoo Stocks to get rolling; Juliet (in her Zoo Stock) and Brock
